"Y" RECEPTION HELD IN BOMBERGER HALL ON SATURDAY EVENING

Literary Societies Help to Make Annual Affair a Very Interesting One

WHO'S WHO INTRODUCED

Instead of circling the floor of the field cage, according to custom, the new Freshman class was introduced in the aisles of Bomberger chapel. The reception for the new students was held on Saturday evening by the Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Associations. As their master of ceremonies, the groups chose Richard Fox, '29, who was unquestionably well fitted to his office.

The meeting was opened by singing "Onward Christian Soldiers," with Polly Wertman, '28, at the piano. This was followed with a scripture reading and a prayer by Charles String, '28.

Then the hosts of the evening welcomed their guests. Ruth Moyer, '28, president of the Y. W. C. A., greeted the new women students with a friendly talk and Charles String, president of the Y. M. C. A., welcomed the men. The two leaders especially mentioned the spirit of fellowship that has always been one of the oldest characteristics of Ursinus, and urged the new members to help in carrying on this comradeship. Mr. String in his address helped his audience to realize how the traditions and opportunities of Ursinus are unsurpassed and how the spirit of Ursinus has been found enduring and real because it has been imbedded in religion.

Representing Zwinglian, Miss Geraldine Ohl, '30, accompanied by Helen Lucas, '28, sang "Comin' Home." As always, Miss Ohl's solo was greatly enjoyed. For Schaff, Mary Kassab, '28, gave "The Highwayman," by Alfred Noyes. The strict attention of the audience showed how very much this was liked.

Mr. Fox, with the assistance of Karl Thompson, '28, introduced the leaders of the various activities. The first was the President of the W. S. G. A., Ruth Von Steuben, '28, followed by the introduction of Charles String, '28, President of the Men's Student Association. Then the captains of the sports were brought forward and each gave his own greeting to the students in a few well chosen words. The captains are: Football, Ray Schell, '28; Hockey, Sally Hoffer, '28; Men's Basketball, Harry Bigley, '28, and Lloyd Hoagey, '28; Women's Basketball, Mabel Fritsch, '28; Baseball, Ted La Clair, '28; and Tennis, Huston Spangler, '28.

The introductions were completed with that of Miss Jeannette Hartenstine, the leader of the Glee Clubs and the Choir.

Two more talented Society members provided entertainment. For Schaff, Betty Cornwell, '28, accompanied by Helen Dealey, '29, sang "The Languid Hour." Lois Nickel, '28, of Zwing gave a very humorous selection "Two Irishmen," by Williams, which also was highly appreciated.

SOPHOMORES WIN ANNUAL TUG-OF-WAR FROM FROSH

The Sophomores proved to be the possessors of more brute strength than the verdant Frosh and won the annual tug-of-war, held on the Highland Field on Thursday afternoon. The victory of the second-year men came in two straight "pulls." At the beginning of the struggle, matters were about even for a half-minute or so, but then the Sophs showed splendid teamwork, and got the "drop" on their lighter rivals. They held until time was called. The second "pull" found the Frosh determined, and for a while it looked as if the fracas would have to go to the third pull, as the wearers of the green gained a slight edge at the beginning. However, this advantage was short-lived, for nine sturdy backs bent to this task, and their effort was rewarded with victory.

STUDENTS' Y. M. C. A. CONFERENCE CAMP

Many Interesting Features Were Enjoyed by Eighty Campus
Representatives

URSINUS REPRESENTED BY SIX

The Ursinus Y. M. C. A. was well represented at the intercollegiate "Y" Conference held at University Camp, Green Lane, the second week in June. It ranked second only, in numbers, to the attendance of Penn students. The six who represented Ursinus were: Charles String, Joe Brookes, Paul Berkenstock, James Carr, John Witmer and Calvin Fritsch.

University Camp is located on the Unami Creek just above Camp Delmont, the woodland haunt of the Boy Scouts, and is an ideal rendezvous for conferences of the type our fellows attended. It affords in abundance the most desirable characteristics and conveniences of camp life. The natural surroundings are beyond comparison and there was every opportunity to enjoy many out-door activities. Hiking, swimming, rowing, fishing, and playing baseball, volleyball and quoits were the favorite pastimes between the assembly meetings and the discussion group sessions. The weather was indeed so favorable during the Conference that almost all the meetings were held out in the open, a camp-fire being lit for evening assemblies. The seven open cabins used for sleeping quarters accommodated fourteen fellows in each and the large fire-places in the rear of each will ever pleasantly be remembered.

FIFTY-EIGHTH ACADEMIC YEAR BEGINS WITH VERY APPROPRIATE EXERCISES

"The Residential College" Was the Subject of Dr. Omwake's Opening
Address

LARGE STUDENT BODY PRESENT

The fifty-eighth academic year of Ursinus College was officially opened by the exercises held in Bomberger Hall Thursday evening. As a prelude, Helen Lucas, '28, played the "Processional March" by Guirand, after which Dr. J. M. S. Isenberg read an appropriate scripture passage from Proverbs and led in prayer. The college choir under the direction of Miss Hartenstine sang "With Sheathed Swords" from "Damascus."

As is customary, Dr. Omwake delivered the opening address. His subject was "The Residential College," and he prefaced his remarks by pointing out the distinction between a college and a school, and between a pupil who receives knowledge passively and a student who searches for this knowledge.

The residential college must be understood as different from the correspondence school and also from the college which provides class room and laboratory facilities for students but fails to interest itself in them during the time that is spent away from their academic pursuits. The residential college, on the contrary, provides domestic, social, and academic life for its members.

This year is the beginning of a new era at Ursinus. The new dormitories for men should be symbolic of a higher life and a new spirit. Environment has a very notable effect on the mind and so the spaciousness and cleanliness of their buildings should produce an effect upon the lives of their occupants.

The social unity of the residential college was another item stressed by Dr. Omwake. Here the student should feel himself a member of the firm with the faculty and all the other students. Small or secret and exclusive groups are detrimental to such a college as this.

The regulations of a college are not for the ordinary student but for the occasional one who does not act in accordance with the accepted standards of conduct. Student government should show cooperation between the faculty and the students.

Dr. Omwake concluded with the hope that "superiority in all things" would be the motto of the college during the coming year.

After an anthem by the choir, "Lift Up Your Heads" by Ashford, Dr. Jordan gave the benediction.

BEARS WIN OPENING GAME BY HUMBLING UPSALA 27-0

Kichline's Fighting Men Scored in Every Quarter but First; at Same Time Holding Upsala Without a First Down

MOYER, BENNER, JEFFERS AND YOUNG SCORE TOUCHDOWNS

Outplayed and outfought by a better eleven, Upsala College bowed in defeat before a new and powerful Ursinus grid machine on the revamped Patterson Field last Saturday afternoon. The final count was 27-0 in favor of the Bears.

Coach Kichline's men demonstrated their superiority over their New Jersey rivals in every phase of the game. The Bears combined speed around the ends with line bucks and forward passes to outwit their enemy and capture the initial contest of the season in impressive fashion.

A large crowd, large, for the opening game of the season at least, was on hand to gain first hand information as to the Bears' chances of going somewhere in the football world this fall. Ideal weather favored the opening fracas, except for a hot sun which beat down on the rejuvenated Patterson Field, making it warm for the moleskin warriors.

Line Strong

As expected, the Grizzly line was as strong as the proverbial stone wall on the defense. The Upsala backs

DISTRIBUTION OF "Y" HAND-

BOOKS DELAYED BY PUB. CO.

Due to unavoidable circumstances the "Y" handbooks have been delayed in their delivery to the Business Manager. In former years the books were ready for distribution to the new students when they stepped upon the campus. This delay however does not offer an excuse for Freshmen disobeying the rules and regulations which they must observe. All rules for Freshmen have been posted in conspicuous places on the campus and bulletin boards and there is no need for laxity in observing them. The printer stated they were working day and night to finish the books and no doubt they will be ready for distribution within the next few days. In the meantime all freshmen should take note of their regulations.

FRESHMEN REGULATIONS

1. Freshmen shall, after the last day of registration, be compelled to wear red caps with green buttons, to be purchased at the College Supply Store. Caps shall be worn at all times on the campus and in the town, excepting Sunday, until after the Spring examinations. When a student wishes to leave Collegeville, no matter for what reason, he shall be required to wear the cap until he boards the train or car. Upon his return, he shall again don the cap as soon as he leaves the train or car.

2. Freshmen are required to wear a plain, black windsor tie at all times and with the same privileges as specified concerning the wearing of the cap.

3. Freshmen are required to wear black socks at all times.

4. Freshmen must carry matches at all times for the use of upper classmen and sophomores.

5. Freshmen shall run errands at the request of upper classmen and sophomores, within the borough limits. They are not required to run errands after 11.00 p. m.

6. Freshmen are required to work on the athletic field and perform other duties under the direction of the various athletic managers.

7. Freshmen are required to raise their caps to members of the Faculty and to upper classmen.

8. Freshmen are required to use the long side of the circle on the

could not penetrate the Ursinus line and the New Jersey eleven failed to register a single first down during the entire game. Led by Captain Ray Schell, who played a bang-up game at tackle and center, the Ursinus line distinguished themselves from end to end.

In the backfield, Bill Moyer, at quarter, reeled off some of his old time end runs and open field running in fine form. He also acted as the passer in the Bears aerial attack.

Both Benner and Young crashed the line for substantial gains and each registered a touchdown through the center of the line. Jeffers executed several off-tackle plunges with success and also featured on the receiving end of the Bears' forward pass attack. LaClair, Newcomer, and Roth were the other backfield men who saw service during the game.

Ursinus opened the game with Capt. Schell kicking off. Neither team held a decided advantage during the early part of the period. Ursinus, however, gradually worked its way down the field and a short pass, Moyer to Jeffers, carried the ball into Upsala territory. LaClair and Benner advanced the pigskin to the 8 yd. line as the period ended.

Moyer Scores

Bill Moyer drew first blood when he slipped through center to tally the first touchdown of the game early in the second period. Schell added the extra point via the placement route.

Again the Bears worked the ball down the field only to be held for downs on Upsala's 2 yd. line. They were halted only momentarily, however, and another march down the field was begun with Bill Benner crashing through center to perform the scoring act. No more scoring was done and the half ended with Ursinus on the long end of a 14-0 score.

Jeffers Crosses

The Bears nearly forgot to score in the third period and it was not until the end of the quarter when Jeff resolved to cross the final chalk mark on an off tackle run. Young and Moyer advanced the ball into a scoring position.

Young Tallies

Pep Young was the last of the backfield quartet to break into the scoring column. Young, who was doing considerable line-bucking in the second half, crashed through center to score the final six-pointer of the afternoon. He missed the try for point by placement.

All during the last half Coach Kichline sent his substitute material streaming in and only one or two who started remained in at the end of the game.

Editorial Comment

A GOOD BEGINNING

ANOTHER college year has begun and with it comes the call "back to your books." A good beginning for every student cannot be over-emphasized. The curve of your college life may be changed by what you do or leave undone at the start is beyond our power to predict. It is essential therefore that all students, both old and new, start their college year in the right spirit, and the right way.

New students especially find it hard at times to adjust themselves to their new environment of college life. They experience a change from their preparatory days, a change which all have to undergo in the sphere of higher education. You must not forget that the fundamental idea which prompted you to come to college was to study. Some students go along for awhile without putting forth much effort in their classroom work. They neglect them in the beginning and ultimately this heedless manner takes its toll. We know that there is much that interferes with a student's studies at the beginning of a college year. Numerous meetings are scheduled to get activities started and naturally the classroom suffers. Furthermore some students enter school without any other purpose in view except to receive the benefits of a college education.

In order to succeed in any endeavor certain principles have to be emphasized and followed consistently. This not only applies out in the world, but also at college. It is of primary importance therefore that we keep ever before us a definite object in view, a determination not to be defeated, and a certain belief in our own powers.

We therefore urge upon every one, both old and new students alike to take up your studies with all their exactions in a spirit of joy, patience, and courage and you shall reap a year's harvest of work well done.

M. E. B., '29.

FAREWELL—PROF. SAWHILL

DURING the past week Prof. Sawhill, formerly professor of Greek, bid many a student a hearty farewell and wished him a successful college year.

Mr. Sawhill leaves us after spending two years upon the Ursinus campus, during which time he has endeared himself in the hearts of many students who are sorry to see him leave.

By his pleasing manner, patience, and friendliness, both in the classroom and upon the campus Mr. Sawhill won the admiration and praise of students with whom he came in contact. In his brief stay he identified himself with many organizations who bid him a hearty farewell and the best wishes for continued success along educational lines.

M. E. B., '29.

CLASS SPIRIT

AMONG the many forces at work in a college which help to mould the life and character of its students is loyalty or school spirit. During the past four years Ursinus has had very little of this spirit. The College as far as enthusiasm goes has for some reason or other gone into mourning. Athletic teams of Ursinus have struggled well, not always doing their best as a unit to be sure, but if these teams failed to do their duty, what about the students? Home games with little or no enthusiasm, contests away, with no demonstrations of good will to send them away to battle for the Red, Old Gold, and Black.

Work in the classroom, and in other fields of endeavor at college has also suffered. Students pursue their work in a listless and slipshod manner as possible. Probably one way to remedy this condition would be to increase the rivalry between Freshmen and Sophomores, more organized class contests would do much to raise the spirit. We are not advocating a return to barbarism, but we do see the results of the neglect of good, wholesome organized class struggles.

C. H. E., '28.

CO-EDS ELECT HALL PROCTORS

The girls representing the various Halls have elected their Proctors to serve during the coming year. Glenwood is represented by Miss Betty Cornwall and Jeanette Strauss; Maples by La Rue Wertman and Dorothy Berger; South Hall, Cora

ALUMNI NOTES

Please send news about yourself and other alumni to the Alumni Editor. All news greatly appreciated.

Miss Ada M. Fisher, '13, of Lebanon, Pennsylvania, has been elected a member of the faculty of the Institute of Musical Art, New York City, of which A. Frank Damrosch is Dean. She assumes her work with the opening of the fall term.

Miss Pearl Kimes, '25, who has been teaching in Penn Argyl for the past several years, took graduate work in History at the summer session of the University of Pennsylvania.

Miss Myra Sabold, '14, taught English and Latin in the summer school of the Lansdale High School. She is head of the Latin department of that school during the academic year.

Miss Emma Roeder, '24, and Mrs. Anna Roeder Gulick, '21, are teaching at the Tilden Junior High School, West Philadelphia.

Miss Sara Mosteller, '23, of West Chester, died very suddenly on the evening of August 24. Miss Mosteller had been teaching in the York High School since her graduation from Ursinus, and spent the past summer abroad. The day following her return to this country she was taken sick and died almost immediately. Her illness was probably caused by an appendicitis operation a year ago. The Weekly extends its sympathy to the family of the deceased.

Misses Vivian Wismer, '25, of Collegeville, and Lucille Knipe, '25, of Limerick, attended the Summer School at Penn State.

Among the alumni on the campus over the week end were: Stanley Moyer, '27; Ruth Eppehimer, '27; Grace Kauffman, '27; Helen Ort, '27; Barbara Boston, '27; Isabel Johnson, '27; Gerald Levengood, '27; Morton Oppenheimer, '27; Betty Smith, '27; Polly Thomas, '27; Russel Boice, '27; Hope Deitrich, '27; George Erb, '27; John Evans, '27; Abel Fink, '27; Rudolph Glocker, '27; Robert Henkels, '27; George Koch, '27; Elizabeth Miller, '27; Roscoe Peters, '27; Earl Skinner, '27; Margaret Ehly, '26; Isabel Radcliffe, '26; Helen Walbert, '26; Malcolm Derk, '26; Phebe Cornog, '26; Scott Brenner, '26; William Stafford, '26; Nesbit Straley, '27; John Moore, '27; George Haines, '27; Mary Garber, '27; Frederick Pentz, '26; Margaret Yost, '24; Emma Roeder, '24; Eugene Michael, '24; Anna Roeder Gulick, '21; Donald Helffrich, '21; Samuel Gulick, '18; Robert Farley, '22; Polly Dotterer, ex-'30; William May, ex-'30; Russell Johnson and wife, '16; Allen Harman, '26; Ed. ## ZWINGLIAN LITERARY SOCIETY

Once again Zwinglian Literary Society welcomed back its members, members of the sister society and friends. For the first time the assemblage met in the chapel of Bomberger, the use of which the directors have so kindly proffered to avoid the congestion in the smaller individual society halls.

The installation of the newly elected officers was followed by the regular program which was opened by suitable exercises led by the chaplain. Miss Charlotte Berger gave one of those delightful readings for which she is so well known. No program is complete without music and Zwing was especially fortunate in having Miss Lucas render several selections from the ever popular musical comedy "My Maryland." An encore was equally well received. A very clever interpretation of the various freshman rules with interesting sidelights was given by Mr. McGarvey. Miss Stibitz was again the leader of one of those "different" originalities assisted by several other Zwinglians. Some modern British poetry was read by Miss Reber in a pleasing manner. Mr. Walter Spangler was the editor of Zwing Review.

Zwing was pleased to welcome into membership Miss Jane Anderson and Peggy Johnson.

Schaff Literary Society will hold its bi-weekly meeting in the auditorium next Friday at 7.30.

The Tower Window

IN a recent conversation with Morvin W. Godshall, '11, secretary of the Collegeville Building and Loan Association, I found out that up to the beginning of the present month there had been paid into the Ursinus College fund maintained in that Association by students and alumni of Ursinus the sum $14,330. The monthly payments keeps the fund growing and with the constant increment of interest it will mount up at maturity to a handsome sum. The share subscribed in the campaign of November, 1925 will mature in 1931 and those subscribed by the class of 1930 in their campaign of last spring for the new gymnasium will mature in 1933. The number of subscribers at the present time is 303. There have been very few withdrawals and it now appears that the B. and L. plan of raising a fund for the College is going to be a great success.

There are other constituent units of the Ursinus fund besides that in the Collegeville Building and Loan Association, numerous subscribers having taken their shares in associations near their homes. The Tri-Savings Building and Loan Association of Philadelphia is carrying a good amount and there are smaller funds accumulating in associations in other cities. The total will yield at maturity about $100,000. We shall surely call the alumni together and have a big celebration when this handsome sum is turned over to the College.

Since these and other Building and Loan associations open new issues at frequent intervals it is possible for individuals not now subscribers, to join the ranks and help roll up the big snowball for Ursinus. Less than half of the living and prosperous alumni of this college are at present participating. Ten dollars a month in double share will yield One Thousand dollars in approximately six and a fourth years. Gifts of this size count up rapidly in increasing the resources of your Alma Mater, and yet by the monthly payment plan, they do not become unduly burdensome to the subscribers.

There is one thing our subscribers should avoid and that is getting in arrears in payments. Every monthly installment increases by two per cent when it becomes over due and causes needless bookkeeping and correspondence. These delinquencies do not occur from lack of funds or lack of interest, but mainly because the subscribers do not have a system of doing business by which items of this kind receive regular attention on the first of each month. There are two ways by which delinquencies and the consequent fines can be avoided. One is to pay yearly in advance in which case there is a reduction of two and one-half per cent. The other is to make out twelve checks—one for the first of each successive month, and send them in advance to the treasurer of the association in which you have your shares, to be cashed as they become due.

Let all subscribers work together to make our Building and Loan Fund one hundred per cent successful.

WOMEN'S DEBATING CLUB
ELECTS OFFICERS

At a meeting of the Women's Debating Club held recently the following officers were elected. President, Lois Nickel; Vice President, Mildred Stibitz; Secretary-Treasurer, Mary Weiss; and Manager, Rebecca Engle.

Under the tutelage of Dr. White the girls had a very successful season last year and expect to equal or surpass their records of previous seasons by getting an early start this year.

Y. M. C. A.

On Thursday the cabinet of the Y. M. C. A. met and discussed plans for helpful year of the Ursinus "Y". The season starts with the reception on Saturday night, at which it is hoped everyone will get acquainted and have an enjoyable time. Then the regular meetings will be inaugurated next Wednesday evening. For this a very attractive program has been prepared. Every man of the College should be present; surely every freshman will want to be.

Throughout the year special meetings and features will be conducted by the Y. M. C. A. Of constant popularity is the joint meeting held once a month with the Y. M. C. A. Speakers of prominence will be engaged for these meetings. The great event of a religious nature is the week of prayer, held in cooperation with the Y. W. C. A., in the early part of the second semester.

During the athletic season, smokers will be held by the "Y" in the field cage to arouse college spirit. A new item will be a boxing and wrestling class for Y. M. C. A. members, to be conducted by Charles Metcalf, who has had expert training and practical experience in these sports.

Altogether with these activities and many others it should be a worthwhile year for the Y. M. C. A. Some of the leaders in this work are Paul Schmoyer, meetings; Dave Harrison, social activities; Howard Koons, membership; George Dillinger, publicity; and Charles Metcalf, sick-visitations. These men may be consulted about the work of the "Y" and qualifications for membership.

To smoke wisely and well, choose Camels

THERE's an irresistible reason for choosing this famous cigarette. Not for its popularity alone, but for that superior quality that produces it.

Camel wins its prestige with modern smokers by forthright value. It is rolled of the choicest tobaccos that money can buy, and its blending is the taste and fragrance triumph of tobacco science.

The Camel smoker is tobacco fit. He has the best, with no scrimping or denial of cost. There are no four-wheel brakes on Camel; no brakes at all. It is full speed ahead, straight for quality.

Select Camel for smoking pleasure, and you'll join distinguished company. Particular, modern smokers have elected it on the principle of superiority.

The big battle between the U's, Ursinus and Upsala, was witnessed by the largest Ursinus student body in the history of the institution.

Capt. Ray Schell, besides playing a great game on the line, kicked three perfect placement goals. All cleared the uprights by a substantial margin.

Coach Kichline put in a busy afternoon. Besides running the Ursinus team he acted as caretaker for the Upsala injured.

Ty Helffrich, Stan Moyer, Bob Henkels, Earl Skinner and Bill Stafford were a few of the former Ursinus grid stars on hand to witness the season's opener.

Big Joll stepped into Red Grange's shoes for a few seconds in the last half when he returned a short Upsala kick-off for seven yards.

In the second period Bill Moyer was hosted over the line and he dashed for a touchdown only to be called back and penalized fifteen yards as someone pushed him over the top. He promptly skirted around right end for fifteen yards to prove that you can't keep a good man back.

The humble Frosh were put to work nursing the sore spots on Patterson Field after the game. Torn up sod was replaced and tamped down.

Ursinus tallied a baker's dozen (thirteen) first downs during the fracas.

Y. W. C. A.

This year promises a full program for the Y. W. C. A. Last year put the association on its feet financially and this year the purpose is to make Y. W. a vital factor in every co-ed's life. Some plans are reaching fulfillment while others are still a bit nebulous, but you will be tremendously interested before many moons have waned.

On Wednesday night the first real meeting, the Big and Little Sister Party, will be held in the Y. W. room. It will not be a real success unless every girl in Ursinus is there. Give the year a good start and you will finish it successfully. You need the Y. W. just as much as it needs you—girls of Ursinus—let cooperation be the motto!

"Y" Reception Held in Bomberger

President Omwake was asked to speak and in a few words he cordially welcomed the new members of our Ursinus circle.

As an innovation, "identification tags" were given to each person so that they might find the individual listed thereon. Difficulty in finding the one sought but created a more lasting impression when they were discovered.

Refreshments were served, and at the close of the evening everyone seemed to have enjoyed himself or herself exceedingly.

Charles B. Heinly, '00, was re-elected Principal of the York, Pa., High School for a period of three years.

Review of Green Lane Conference

bered as the hearths at which the closest bonds of fellowship were attained by the members who gathered around them.

Most prominent among the leaders of the Conference were Jim Moore, student pastor of Cornell; Pat Malin, prominent undergraduate of Penn several years ago, now secretary to Sherwood Eddy; and Joe Millar, Chairman of Meetings and the captain of the Dartmouth championship basketball team of 1925. The main speakers of the combined group meetings were Dr. Sockman of the Fifth Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church; Dr. Roger, of Edinburgh, Scotland; Dr. Harry Ward, of Columbia University; Howard Thurman, the well-known colored pastor from Cleveland, Ohio; Dr. Ray Petty of Baptist Temple, Philadelphia; Dr. Phillips of the Park Avenue Baptist Church; Dr. Moldenhauer of Albany First Presbyterian Church; and Rev. Harold Kerschner of the First Reformed Church of Philadelphia, all men of prominent standing in Christian Work. Their messages were of vital importance in regard to campus life and they presented their ideas in a most gripping and inspiring manner, holding the absorbed interest of all.

The group discussions after each assembly were of most interesting character, opportunities being given for the expression of individual viewpoints and original and oft-times very useful suggestions for improvements on campus activities.

There were a number of foreign students in attendance, one from the Philippines, and Korea, four from Japan, two from China, one from Java; and all are members of American college or university Y. M. C. A. Their friendship with the American students was well worth the experience to the latter, for they were indeed as amiable, sympathetic, and sportsmanlike chaps as you would want to meet.

As a whole, the Green Lane Conference was a great success, having surpassed all expectations. It engendered the deep significance of Christian fellowship and understanding on the college campus to all who were privileged to be there. Although the thrill of Morning Dips, the hilarity of Cabin Mattress-Squabbles, and the joy of Jumping the Boulders were incidents thoroughly delightful and will not soon be forgotten; the spirit of ardent fellowship enhanced in the intimate talks of the main speakers, and sincere reasonings and expressions of opinions and ideas in the discussion groups, will ever remain foremost in recollections of the Conference to those who were so fortunate as to have attended it.
